MIKESELL WILLING TO ADDRESS LOCAL CLUB

Sealer of Weights and Measures Promises to Come

RECOMMENDS A SCALE

"Even Balance" Best for Household Use—Gives Liquid and Dry Measure Table

When the preliminary work of the organization of the Charleroi Marketing Club was under way, the Mail wrote to O. Evan Mikesell, who has recently been appointed sealer of weights and measures for Washington county, by the county commissioners, asking if he would make an address to the club at some future time on the subject of weights and measures, and the laws governing the same. Mr. Mikesell was also asked if he could recommend a household scale which would be reliable, and stand the official tests. To this letter Mr. Mikesell replies as follows:

Your letter of recent date at hand and contents noted. I would say in reply that I would be only too glad indeed to have an opportunity to address your new Marketing Club on the subject of weights and measures and the laws governing the same in this State, at some future time suitable to the convenience of the club.

As to recommending scales I would say that I can only recommend the "kind" and not any particular "make" or "manufacture." The best scale for household use for a moderate price scale is the "even balance" scale and should not cost less than $3 or $3.50 per scale. There is less chance of getting out of order and it can easily be adjusted and tested. Every household should have a scale to verify the weights of the dealer.

You will find the liquid and dry measure contents table enclosed:

Liquid Measure.

One gallon, 231 cubic inches. Tolerance, 4 fluid drams or .9 cubic inches.
One-half gallon, 115.5 cubic inches. Tolerance, 3 fluid drams, or .68 cubic inches.

One pint, 28.875 cubic inches. Tolerance, 1.5 fluid drams, or .34 cubic inches.

One-half pint, 14.437 cubic inches. Tolerance, 1.0 fluid drams, or .22 cubic inches.

One gill, 7.218 cubic inches. Tolerance, 1.0 fluid drams, or .22 cubic inches.

Dry Measure.

One bushel, 2,150.42 cubic inches. Tolerance, 25 cubic inches.

One-half bushel, 1,075.21 cubic inches. Tolerance, 15 cubic inches.

Manown Men on Strike

Trouble Existing Since August 1 Over Checkweighman Matter Unsolved

The Manown mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company, across the river from Monongahela, which has been idle since the first of August owing to the trouble which arose over the refusal of the mine superintendent refusing to permit Checkweighman Behanna to go to work after he had been elected by the miners to act as their checkweighman, is still closed and from two to three hundred men are out of work pending the adjustment of the trouble. The situation remains unchanged. A meeting was held Friday in the Coal operators association offices in Pittsburgh, at which both factions were represented. But the result has not been made public.

JUSTICE INDICTED

McConaughy, of Cherry Valley, Charged With Extortion

CASE SET FOR TRIAL

Archie McConaughy, a justice of the peace in Smith township, located at Cherry Valley, was indicted on two charges of extortion Friday by the grand jury at Washington. The private prosecutor is William McCleary, county detective who made the information on information received. Several witnesses were present in the court room and called before the grand jury. From these, it is understood, the justice is alleged to have taken money illegally.

Upon motion of the district attorney, R. G. Miller, the sentence was lifted yesterday in the case against W. H. Brown, who was sentenced on August 5, to pay the costs, fine of $50 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for one year. The defendant was resentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $1.

It developed since Brown had entered his plea that he had entered a plea to a more serious charge than that of which he had been guilty. He was sentenced on a felonious assault and battery charge, while he was guilty only of simple assault and battery. These facts were set forth to the court.

The defendant with Raymond Brown were held for court for attacking a street car conductor, M. F. Glancy, near Monongahela. Glancy was badly cut. It was ascertained though that W. H. Brown had simply acted disorderly on the car, had only been guilty of simple assault, had nothing

MARKETING CLUB STARTS ITS WORK

Committees of Women From Newly Formed Organization Have Heart-to-Heart Talks With Farmers at Curb Market

Committees of the Charleroi Marketing Club, which has just been formed had heart-to-heart talks with the farmers that patronize the Charleroi curb market at Sixth street this morning, and as a result much benefit is anticipated. They explained a few things and asked the farmer to grow as much as he could selling directly to the housekeeper. Outside dealers are becoming envious of the success of the curb market, it is stated and some have even made advances to get the farmers to sell their goods to them, but the scheme has not worked well. Moreover the women are going to see that the curb market is not spoiled by any such means.

There seems to be a big demand for fruit now. The earlier garden produce and green stuff is giving out and it is not quite time for the fall produce to open. However, there is a good supply of plums, apples and the like.

HUNDREDS TO BE CHIEF RODERICK ADVISES CARE

Campmeeting There Sunday Will Attract Throngs From This Vicinity

Hundreds of Charleroi people will send their way to Bentleyville Sunday where the first Sunday of camp meeting will be held under auspices of the Union Holiness Association. It is expected that fully 10,000 persons will be in attendance Sunday. At present every cottage is occupied and campers are scattered on all available spots on the grounds.

Owing to the recent innovation of the Ellsworth-Charleroi motor express as well as other auto lines it will be easier this year to get to the camp ground than formerly, and less expensive to local folks. This express motor car has been making three trips a day.

Rev. F. A. Gouls and Rev. Charles F. English both well known in this section will have charge of the services. A number of pastors and helpers from Pittsburgh and surrounding churches will be present and assist in the meetings. Rev. C. A. Imhoff an evangelist and district superintendent is also present for the first time.

As usual special trains will be run from Monongahela to Bentleyville and excursions will prevail.

THREE-REEL FEATURE AT COYLE THEATRE

An Eclair feature secured by the Coyle Theatre for next Monday night is "The Mystery of the Bridge of Notre Dame," in three reels and 40 scenes. This is the baffling problem of modern life in the heart of Paris, replete with thrills and enigmatic adventures. The story tells of a disappointed lover who decides to end his life at the Bridge of Notre Dame, where he intends to leap into the river, he finds a thief attacking an old man and goes to his rescue. He bears the man to his lodgings, where the victim dies. Then he meets his sweetheart and they elope to the colonies. Later the woman becomes jealous, and accuses her husband of the murder of the man he rescues at the Bridge of Notre Dame. The story of clearing the young man from this charge who is committed to prison, is full of thrilling mystery and constitutes a most interesting motion picture drama.

SANDY PLAINS FAIR CONTINUED THIS AFTERNOON

The Sandy Plains fair which formally closed yesterday was continued this afternoon when a running meet was pulled off at 1:30 o'clock. More than 20 head of runners were on the grounds.

The birdman failed to get his wings to work and yesterday afternoon loaded up the machine and hauled to to Millsboro to be shipped.

Editor C. L. Schuck of the Monessen News was in town this morning.

CONTRACT AWARD MARKS PASSING SCHOOL HALL

Miners at Park Today

Second Annual Outing of Sub-District No. 3 Being Held at Eldora

Miners from various parts of the Monongahela valley and from interior parts of the county comprising sub-district No. 3 of District No. 3 are holding their second annual outing today at Eldora Park. There is a large crowd on hand. This afternoon there is to be a program of speaking by some of the best known men among the miners' organization. President Van Bittner who succeeded Francis Feehan as the head of the Pittsburgh district will make his first address in an official capacity in this part of the valley. The celebration started this morning with a parade at Monongahela.

MINE WILL START UP

Old American Workings Near Roscoe Being Gotten in Shape

VESTA COMPANY OWNER

The old American mine just above Roscoe is being gotten in shape by the Vesta Coal company for operation and within a few days will probably be turning out its 700 or 800 tons per day. Employment will be given to approximately 150 men.

Under direction of Elijah Dainty of Charleroi one of the oldest mine foreman in point of service along the Monongahela valley, the American mine is now being cleaned up. A number of new men were put to work today. Monday morning the workings will be the scene of unusual activity.

The American mine has not been operated through its own opening for probably four years. Coal was taken out for a time through the Vest No. 2 opening, but this was discontinued some time ago. It is stated there is considerable coal yet to be removed at the American, so that it will probably take two or three years for it to be worked out.

ty, it is well for this community to derive the full measure of protection

from the very start.

No reputable dealer will deliberately give short weights and measures to his customers. There is, however,

a confusion as to what constitutes a proper standard in this respect, and

it is the mission of the sealer of

weights and measures to set this

standard and insist upon its observance. In this the people can cooperate

by learning what the proper standards are, and then seeing to it that they are being followed when they pay for. It is quite probable that short weights and measure are given

in many instances inadvertently and

in such cases all that will be necessary is to establish the proper

standard.

Mr. Mikesell's generous offer to address the club is a benefit to the community that should meet with a hearty response on the part of all the members.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The Astor, by making his to $10,

000,000 simply by being born, has in the few days of his life come to be one of the most talked about persons in the world. But let me tell you him this.

Some men who claim to be wealth continually complain of being financially embarrassed.

One kind of an automobile firm we are strong for is the kind you can play a game on.

A motorcycle driven by a petro-um engine was patented in 1885. At the rate people are living now that was a good century and a half ago.

A novelist has just dedicated a novel to Andrew Carnegie. If Andy takes the hint he will buy one for each of his libraries.

Some men when they inherit a few hundred thousand dollars want to go to work in a pottery or dig holes for sewers or serve on the police force.

To save us we can't respect them more, though it does make them notorious.

Rats are said to interfere with the operation of electrical machinery. The invention of a Charleroi man makes electricity interfere with the operation of rats.

Automobile selling looks easy until you try to sell somebody a last year's model, when he doesn't want to buy.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In an article in the September

Woman's Home Companion, on the relationship between a girl and her mother, appears the following:

"I once knew a wonderful old gentleman. I think I have told you or him before. He was a scientist, and he liked to call himself an athlete, but nevertheless, he was a very old man.

He was a very old man, and he

"I did not know much about evolution, but I had an imagination and this argument of his appealed to it.

"You young people do not think enough," he continued. "Why don't you study the conditions? You need the scientific method. You need to trace things back to their reasons and find out their meanings. Why don't you study a little what your mother and I and the world were when we were young then you'd know better how to deal with us."

In the September American Magazine appears the following about a delegate at the Baltimore convention

who made a speech:

"The crowd listened approvingly to a frenzied speech from a Southwestern statesman who introduced an entirely new gesture. With his right hand outstretched he made wild clutches at his shoulder with his left hand thumb. It turned out that this was no mere affectation to emphasize his rhetoric, but that his

'galluses' were slipping. He remarked to a fellow delegate as he came down from the platform:

"I dura near lost my pants."

Dogs Destroy Sheep Herd.

By the killing of four sheep last

Saturday night and three on Tuesday night by dogs, N. R. Tannehill of Chartiers township had just two sheep left out of a fine flock of 11

last March. Since that time 42 have been killed by dogs. Mr. Tannehill who has been a successful sheep breeder all his life, has disposed of his two sheep and discontinued raising them at all.

Township Completes Brick Road.

The road supervisors of Chartiers its distance is 18 feet wide with 10 feet of brick and eight feet of Tel-

other part of the road is 12 feet wide, composed entirely of brick from curb

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age.
How It May Be Passed
in Safety.

Old, Va.—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

MIKESSELL WILLING TO ADDRESS LOCAL CLUB

The tolerance or allowable error given above is according to the Guley system and at present there is no established system in this State. It is likely that the next Legislature will establish a tolerance system. You will note that there is a difference of 9.45 cubic inches in favor of the dry quart. This is the reason for many dealers using the liquid measure for a dry measure in daily trade. There is a shortage of almost 10 cubic inches outside of the possible shortage of the measure itself.

It is probable that a public meeting will be arranged soon and an invitation extended to Mr. Mikesell to come here and make an address upon the subject of weights and measures.

The Lion and the Lamb.

The hardest thing to train a wild beast to do is to perform with a weak, defenseless animal. In one of the big circuses some years ago an effort was made to persuade a very docile old lion to lie down with a lamb. The idea was certainly a good one, but it took several lambs and also several months before the lion, which was willing to do any kind of trick, would allow a lamb to enter his den with impunity. Twice he killed a lamb in the presence of his trainer, and once he nearly killed the trainer, who tried to pull away the carass. Finally the lion would lie down with the lamb in the den just so long as the trainer stood over it with a whip. But the performance was so excellent, forced and so interesting to the audience and interest that it was given after two or three attempts.

Bird's Nest of Steel.

In the Museum of the History of Science, in Scotland, there is a bird's nest of the ironclad of steel. There are a number of clock-making shops at Glasgow, and in the yards of these shops there are often found iron clasp for the springs of clocks. One day a clock-maker noticed in a tree in his yard a bird's nest of the above appearance. It was found that it had a pair of watch's teeth built a nest on a fork of the tree. It was more than four inches across and perfectly round. After the bird had been seen, the nest was taken to the museum, where it is preserved as a striking illustration of the skill of birds in turning their surroundings to advantage in building their nests.

The Mystery of Love.

If a man should importune me to give a reason why I loved him I find it could not otherwise be expressed than by making answer, because it was he because it was I. There is beyond all that I am able to say. I know not what inexplicable and fatal power that brought on this union.—Montaigne.

Up Early.

"The boss asked me what made me look so tired," said Galley, the clerk, "and I told him I was up early this morning."

"Huh!" snorted the bookkeeper. "You never got up early in your life."

"I didn't say that I got up. I said I was up."

Not An Uncommon Sight Along Any Charleroi Street

On thousands of mornings there sits a breeder of disease, a menace to the family health placed there by the unsuspecting householder. It is the open milk pail, the uncovered picher.

Sometimes a worn, greasy ticket that shows at a glance how many soiled fingers have handled it, reposes in the bottom. Often hours after the milkman has made his rounds, the family's daily supply of milk sits in the sizzling summer sun, open to the dust, later to be used for the baby's bottle and the family table.

Milk delivered in bottles is protected to a greater degree but it will be ruined with almost equal rapidity if allowed to stand in the sun. The heat will multiply the bacteria present in all milk, many thousand times so that it becomes a menace to infants.

To avoid this danger arrangements should be made to have the milkman place it directly in the ice box or in an improvised porch refrigerator, which can be constructed at the cost of a few cents. Milk should always be kept at a temperature below 60 degrees.

Infant mortality throughout the State Commission of Health Division has issued a pamphlet "The Care of the Home Milk Supply." The proper care of milk is a factor in the preservation of infant life. Statistics show that ten bottle fed babies die to every breast fed infant. The large majority of these deaths are from disorders of nutrition.

These circulars have been printed in six languages and will be widely distributed throughout the Commonwealth.

trusses in America. She last appeared in Pittsburgh in 1905, when Mr. Davis brought her back here to play a special engagement as a stock star with his organization at the Alvin Theatre. The story of Pinero's "Second Mrs. Tanqueray" is too well known to outline in detail here. With that same dramatist's "Iris," "No. 100," "The Poisons," and "Benedit of the Doubt," it forms a sort of tetralogy, not by any continuity of story but by identity of theme, each play depicting the life of an erring woman her fate being of course the denunciation of all three dramas. It was Mrs. Parick Campbell who first made "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" famous. She appeared in it both England and America with phenomenal success. Mr. Davis must be congratulated for his happy foresight. Mr. Corliss Giles will of course play Aubrey Tanqueray in the revival of this Pinero masterpiece at the Grand next week, while Mr. Dennis A. Harris, Miss Katherine Stanton, Mr. Hal De Forest, Miss Geraldine P. and other members of the company will be seen in the remaining roles. Stage Director Frederick Esmelton and his corps of assistants at the Grand are planning an elaborate scenic setting for the four acts of the piece, all of which are laid in and near London.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURGH.

Next week brings another splendid bill of sensational and artistic acts to the Pittsburgh Hippodrome. This is becoming an old story, for each week since the season opened at the Big Forbes Field open air show the same announcement has been made and the course of each week has been a veritable list of the good things seen in advance of the performance. By the way, the Hippodrome is being purchased by Manager John P. Harris and it will be continued as long as he remains in the amusement business, viz to get the public far more than their money's worth.

The Hippodrome is by far the most attractive place of resort in Pittsburgh with its flashing gleaming lights its immense and comfortable seats the surrounding atmosphere of gaiety and pleasant excitement the air filled with stirring music and the stages filled with a succession of artistic and surprising scenes, it is small wonder that the huge Forbes Field grand stand has been crowded nightly since the opening of the season. Another of its extremely desirable features is its central location and its accessibility. One of the greatest acts in the world is coming to the Hippodrome. Albers Polar Bears. Hippodrome patrons will enjoy seeing them, for they are as unique in their performance as they are in appearance. Never was such a splendid collection of these huge inhabitants of the frozen north brought together before, or placed on exhibition. They form but one of a glittering bill that will be seen at the Hippodrome.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURGH

The supplementary summer season of stock at the Grand Opera House by the Harry Davis Players will be brought to a brilliant conclusion next week in the special engagement, announced by Harry Davis of Miss Sara Truax, who will return to Pittsburgh for one week only, beginning next Monday afternoon, August 19th, to appear with the Davis Players in an elaborate revival of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's drama, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." In announcing both the home-coming of Miss Truax and the revival of this great Pinero masterpiece, Mr. Davis will wind up the summer season of stock at the Grand—which, by the way has been a most successful one. During her regime as leading woman here, almost a decade ago Miss Truax was accounted—and is yet for that matter—one of the most capable and deservedly popular ac-

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A variety of pretty human interest photoplays was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. One of the most pleasing was "The New Church Organ." This was the story of a typical country church congregation which refuses to pay its minister a living salary, but expends a large sum in a new pipe organ. The pretty daughter of the minister has to forego the pleasure of a new gown for the church festival, which was a leading social event, because her father's salary is insufficient. She secludes herself at home, but her father brings her some of the refreshments. There the girl carries it back to the kitchen of the festival where she is burned by an explosion. The salesman, who places the new organ, is impressed with the pretty daughter of the clergyman, and when she is burned he rushes to her rescue, and pays her much attention during her convalescence, much to the discomfiture of the other young ladies of the congregation, who have snubbed the daughter of the clergyman because of her shabby clothes. The romance ends happily and the couple are married. "The Love Germ" and the "The Prize Package" were two humorous photoplays, in which sentiment had a leading part. "Memories" was a pathetic story of a woman's duplicity which wrecked a man's life as well as his happiness. This with the "Pathe Weekly" Bulletin and other strong features constituted a most delightful repertoire for the week.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

One of the most thrilling as well as graphic war photoplays ever exhibited in Charleroi was shown in the repertoire of the Coyle Theatre this week. This was "The Fortunes of War" and in these days of peace propaganda, the play should furnish a sufficient object lesson to the spectators to cause them not to decry the barbarity of modern warfare. This was the story of a young Confederate officer whose scene of action is right at the home mansion. He leaves his mother after a visit and returns to camp. No sooner does he arrive than he is detailed to try to capture a northern spy. The fugitive is overtaken and in the fight that follows is badly wounded, but shoots and kills the young Confederate. The latter's body is taken to his mother, who has in the meantime given shelter to the wounded spy. There the latter learns that he has killed the son of his benefactor, who in turn is frozen in stony sorrow over her loss. Her boy's father has already given up his life for his country, and the mother too has lost all. The spy, filled with remorse, tries to give himself up to his would-be captors, but the heart-stricken mother,

FIRSTS WHITEWASH

THE WASHINGTONS
BY SCORE 8 TO 0

Friday was the first day of the week that two teams of the Church League were able to get together for a game, and there were events of interest then, the First Presbyterians and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians furnishing the excitement. The Firsts had the most excitement on their side and had the more cause for rejoicing. They won. The score was 8 to 0.

Two things distinguished the victory of the Firsts. First the pitching of "Rube" Osborne, who didn't let the Washington Avenues get hardly enough hits to mention, and secondly errors of the Washington Avenues—seven of them.

The first two scores were made by the Firsts in the third inning. Two hits, and a passed ball and an error did the damage. Five runs were scored the next inning on four hits, two errors, a base on balls and a stolen base. They finished up tallying in the sixth inning by one run, due to a man being hit by pitcher, a single and sacrifice. The Washington Avenues row of ciphers was nearly the same in the run and in the hit column. They got a hit in the fifth inning and two in the sixth. Score:

Mozart and Brezner.
When Mozart was at the height of his fame he composed the music for Brezner's "Belmont and Konstanze" ("The Abduction From Seraglio") at the request of the Emperor Joseph II. The author of the drama was so angry at this that he inserted the following notice in the Leipziger Zeitung: "A certain fellow of the name of Mozart has dared to misuse my drama, 'Belmont und Konstanze,' for an opera text. I hereby solemnly protest against this invasion of my rights, and I reserve to myself further proceedings." (Signed) Christoph Friedrich Brezner, author of "Rauschen."

Horse Hatred.

Of all the domestic animals the horse is probably the most gentle, but there are exceptions. A California man had in his stable a fine thoroughbred horse, of which he made quite a pet. One day he went into the stable, and, stopping to put his favorite steed, he was surprised when the horse, with a violent plunge, broke the halter and came at him with open mouth. At first he thought it was in fun, but he soon realized his mistake and hastily climbed up a ladder and yelled for help. On the arrival of his son the horse went back to the stall and immediately resumed its former gentleness to all but its owner. To him it remained a dead foe until he was compelled to sell it. He never knew the reason for its sudden animosity.

Among the world's left handed geniuses was Leonardo da Vinci, who wrote a treatise on aviation, the handwriting of which travels from the right side of the page to left. Nelson, too, was left handed, but that was from necessity.

J. R. Green records a story of Admiral Nelson's visit to Yarmouth to receive the freedom of the borough. "A storm met him on his landing, but the danner failed to prevent his appearance on the quay. When the freeman's oath was tendered to him the town clerk noticed that the hero placed his left hand on the book. Shocked at the feat in propriety he said, 'Your right hand, my lord.' 'That,' observed Nelson, 'is at Tenoriffe.'"

MIKESELL WILLING TO ADDRESS LOCAL CLUB

Sealer of Weights and Measures Promises to Come

RECOMMENDS A SCALE

"Even Balance" Best for Household Use—Gives Liquid and Dry Measure Table

When the preliminary work of the organization of the Charleroi Marketing Club was under way, the Mail wrote to O. Evan Mikesell, who has recently been appointed sealer of weights and measures for Washington county, by the county commissioners, asking if he would make an address to the club at some future time on the subject of weights and measures, and the laws governing the same. Mr. Mikesell was also asked if he could recommend a household scale which would be reliable, and stand the official tests. To this letter Mr. Mikesell replies as follows:

Your letter of recent date at hand and contents noted. I would say in reply that I would be only too glad indeed to have an opportunity to address your new Marketing Club on the subject of weights and measures and the laws governing the same in this State, at some future time suitable to the convenience of the club.

As to recommending scales I would say that I can only recommend the "kind" and not any particular "make" or "manufacture." The best scale for household use for a moderate price scale is the "even balance" scale and should not cost less than $3 or $3.50 per scale. There is less chance of getting out of order and it can easily be adjusted and tested. Every household should have a scale to verify the weights of the dealer.

You will find the liquid and dry measure contents table enclosed:

Liquid Measure.
One gallon, 231 cubic inches. Tolerance, 4 fluid drams or .9 cubic inches.
One-half gallon, 115.5 cubic inches. Tolerance, 3 fluid drams, or .35 cubic inches.

One-half pint, 14.437 cubic inches. Tolerance, 1.0 fluid drams, or .22 cubic inches.
One gill, 7.218 cubic inches. Tolerance, 1.0 fluid drams, or .22 cubic inches.

Dry Measure.

One-half bushel, 1,075.21 cubic inches. Tolerance, 15 cubic inches.

Manown Men on Strike

Trouble Existing Since August 1 Over, Checkweighman

The Manown mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company, across the river from Monongahela, which has been idle since the first of August owing to the trouble which arose over the refusal of the mine superintendent refusing to permit Checkweighman Behanna to go to work after he had been elected by the miners to act as their checkweighman, is still closed and from two to three hundred men are out of work pending the adjustment of the trouble. The situation remains unchanged. A meeting was held Friday in the Coal operators association offices in Pittsburgh, at which both factions were represented. But the result has not been made public.

JUSTICE INDICTED

CASE SET FOR TRIAL

Archie McConaughy, a justice of the peace in Smith township, located at Cherry Valley, was indicted on two charges of extortion Friday by the grand jury at Washington. The private prosecutor is William McCleary, county detective who made the information on information received. Several witnesses were present in the court room and called before the grand jury. From these, it is understood, the justice is alleged to have taken money illegally.

Upon motion of the district attorney, R. G. Miller, the sentence was lifted yesterday in the case against W. H. Brown, who was sentenced on August 5, to pay the costs, fine of $50 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for one year. The defendant was resentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $1.

It developed since Brown had entered his plea that he had entered a plea to a more serious charge than that of which he had been guilty. He was sentenced on a felonious assault and battery charge, while he was guilty only of simple assault and battery. These facts were set forth to the court.

MARKETING CLUB STARTS ITS WORK

Committees of Women From Newly Formed Organization Have Heart-to-Heart Talks With Farmers at Curb Market

Committees of the Charleroi Marketing Club, which has just been formed, had heart-to-heart talks with the farmers that patronize the Charleroi curb market at Sixth street this morning, and as a result much benefit is anticipated. They explained a few things and asked the farmer to grow as much as he could selling directly to the housekeeper. Outside dealers are becoming envious of the success of the curb market, it is stated and some have even made advances to get the farmers to sell their goods to them, but the scheme has not worked well. Moreover the women are going to see that the curb market is not spoiled by any such means.

HUNDREDS TO BE AT BENTLEYVILLE

Campmeeting There Sunday Will Attract Throngs From This Vicinity

Hundreds of Charleroi people will wend their way to Bentleyville Sunday where the first Sunday of campmeeting will be held under auspices of the Union Holiness Association. It is expected that fully 10,000 persons will be in attendance Sunday. At present every cottage is occupied and campers are scattered on all available spots on the grounds.

Owing to the recent innovation of the Ellsworth-Charleroi motor express as well as other auto lines it will be easier this year to get to the camp ground than formerly, and less expensive to local folks. This express motor car has been making three trips a day.

Rev. F. A. Gouls and Rev. Charles F. English both well known in this section will have charge of the services. A number of pastors and helpers from Pittsburgh and surrounding churches will be present and assist in the meetings. Rev. C. A. Imhoff an evangelist and district superintendent is also present for the first time.

As usual special trains will be run from Monongahela to Bentleyville and excursions will prevail.

THREE-REEL FEATURE AT COYLE THEATRE

An Eclair feature secured by the Coyle Theatre for next Monday night is "The Mystery of the Bridge of Notre Dame," in three reels and 40 scenes. This is the baffling problem of modern life in the heart of Paris, replete with thrills and enigmatic adventures. The story tells of a disappointed lover who decides to end his life at the Bridge of Notre Dame, where he intends to leap into the river, he finds a thief attacking an old man and goes to his rescue. He bears the man to his lodgings, where the victim dies. Then he meets his sweetheart and they elope to the colonies. Later the woman becomes jealous, and accuses her husband of the murder of the man he rescues at the Bridge of Notre Dame. The story of clearing the young man from this charge who is committed to prison, is full of thrilling systerly and constitutes a most interesting motion picture drama.

MINE WILL START UP

Old American Workings Near Roscoe Being Gotten in Shape

VESTA COMPANY OWNER

The old American mine just above Roscoe is being gotten in shape by the Vesta Coal company for operation and within a few days will probably be turning out its 700 or 800 tons per day. Employment will be given to approximately 150 men.

Under direction of Elijah Dainty of Charleroi one of the oldest mine foremen in point of service along the Monongahela valley, the American mine is now being cleaned up. A number of new men were put to work today. Monday morning the workings will be the scene of unusual activity.

The American mine has not been operated through its own opening for probably four years. Coal was taken out for a time through the Vest No. 2 opening, but this was discontinued some time ago. It is stated there is considerable coal yet to be removed at the American, so that it will probably take two or three years for it to be worked out.

test the people by appointing a sealer

rive the full measure of protection
from the very start.

No reputable dealer will deliberately give short weights and measures
to his customers. There is, however,
a confusion as to what constitutes a
proper standard in this respect, and
it is the mission of the sealer of
weights and measures to set this
standard and insist upon its observance. In this the people can co-operate
by learning what the proper standards are, and then seeing to it that they get in every instance what they pay for. It is quite probable that
short weights and measure are given
in many instances inadvertently and
in such cases all that will be necessary is to establish the proper
standard.

Mr. Mikesell's generous offer to advance the cause of the community that should meet with a hearty response on the part of all the members.

The Astor boy made heir to $3-

one of the most talked about persons in the world. But his name is not himself.

REPEAL THE OLEO TAX.

One of the most unjust taxes ever imposed on humanity is the tax on oleomargarine and substitutes for butter. This tax is imposed presumably to protect the farmers, but in reality it is the work of the Butter Trust which fixes the price of butter. In this process the rapacity of this trust knows no bounds, and the price of butter has advanced until at certain times of the year it is prohibi-tively to people in ordinary circumstance. This would not be so bad if the wholesome substitutes for butter were not taxed to the extent that the price is from one-third to one half higher than it need to be.

If it is desirable to impose a tax on the poorer people for the benefit of some special interest, why not shift it about? Why give the Elgin Butter Board the benefit of this special protection all the time? Why not tax the cereals and breakfast foods for a year, and then shift it to flour, potatoes, and other food products? Any of these commission dealers who fix prices for retailers would no doubt hail with delight this opportunity to get an extra rake off at the expense of the working people. In favoring the Butter Trust the law gives this bunch of robbers an unfair advantage over the other free-booters. This privilege for piracy should be passed around.

However, it does little good to denounce this tax. Hard words break no bones. So long as people talk and do not act the Butter Trust accumulates its millions at the expense of the working people. The thing to do is to go after each candidate for Congress and the Legislature this fall, and get their pledge if possible to work for the repeal of the tax on oleo and butterine, both Federal and State. This is an excellent opportunity for the Charleroi Marketing Club to get to work. Let a committee draft a bill for the repeal of these laws and have the women make a canvass of the voters of the town and secure their co-operation. This tax is unfair all around, and was only imposed for political purposes. Let it be repealed at once.

INVITE HIM AT ONCE.

Now that the county sealer of weights and measures, O. B. Niver, has signified his willingness to address the Charleroi Marketing Club on the subject of weights and measures, no time should be lost in extending the invitation. This is a subject of vital importance to every household, and now that the county commissioners have very considerably taken advantage of the law to pro-

test the people by appointing a sealer
of weights and measures for the county, it is well for this community to derive the full measure of protection
from the very start.

No reputable dealer will deliberately give short weights and measures
to his customers. There is, however,
a confusion as to what constitutes a

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age.
How It May Be Passed
in Safety.

Old, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years."

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The tolerance or allowable error given above is according to the Guley system and at present there is no established system in this State. It is likely that the next Legislature will establish a tolerance system. You will note that there is a difference of 9.45 cubic inches in favor of the dry quart. This is the reason for many dealers using the liquid measure for a dry measure in daily trade. There is a shortage of almost 10 cubic inches outside of the possible shortage of the measure itself.

It is probable that a public meeting will be arranged soon and an invitation extended to Mr. Mikesell to come here and make an address upon the subject of weights and measures.

The Lion and the Lamb.

The hardest thing to train a wild beast to do is to perform with a weak, defenseless animal. In one of the big circuses some years ago an effort was made to persuade a very docile old lion to lie down with a lamb. The idea was certainly a good one, but it took several lambs and also several months before the lion, which was willing to do any kind of trick, would allow a lamb to enter his den with impunity. Twice he killed a lamb in the presence of his trainer, and once he nearly killed the trainer, who tried to pull away the carcass. Finally the lion would tolerate the lamb in the den just so long as the keeper stood over it with an iron bar. But the performance was so evidently forced and so lacking in smoothness and interest that it was abandoned after two or three attempts.

Bird's Nest of Steel.

In the Museum of Natural History at Solerne, in Switzerland, there is a bird's nest made entirely of steel. There are a number of clockmaking shops at Solerne, and in the yards of these shops there are often found lying disused or broken springs of clocks. One day a clockmaker noticed in a tree in his yard a bird's nest of peculiar appearance. Examining it he found that a pair of warblers had built a nest entirely of clock springs. It was more than four inches across and perfectly comfortable for the birds. After the feathered architects had reared their brood the nest was taken to the museum, where it is preserved as a striking illustration of the skill of birds in turning their surroundings to advantage in building their nests.

The Mystery of Love.

If a man should importune me to give a reason why I loved him I find it could not otherwise be expressed than by making answer, because it was he, because it was I. There is beyond all that I am able to say. I know not what importunate and fatal power that brought on this union.—Montaigne.

Up Early.

"The boss asked me what made me look so tired," said Galley, the clerk, "and I told him I was up early this morning."
"Huh!" snorted the bookkeeper. "You never got up early in your life."
"I didn't say that I got up. I said I was up."

Not An Uncommon Sight Along Any Charleroi Street

On thousands of doorsteps each morning there sits a breeder of disease, a menace to the family health placed there by the unsuspecting householder. It is the open milk pail, the uncovered picher.

Sometimes a worn, greasy ticket that shows at a glance how many soiled fingers have handled it, reposes in the bottom. Often hours after the milkman has made his rounds, the family's daily supply of milk sits in the sizzling summer sun, open to the dust, later to be used for the baby's bottle and the family table.

Milk delivered in bottles is protected to a greater degree but it will be ruined with almost equal rapidity if allowed to stand in the sun. The heat will multiply the bacteria present in all milk, many thousand times so that it becomes a menace to infants.

To avoid this danger arrangements should be made to have the milkman place it directly in the ice box or in an improvised porch refrigerator which can be constructed at the cost of a few cents. Milk should always be kept at a temperature below 60 degrees.

In his campaign to reduce the infant mortality throughout the State, Commissioner of Health Dixon has issued a pamphlet "The Care of the Home Milk Supply." The proper care of milk is a vital factor in the preservation of infant life. Statistics show that ten bottle fed babies die to every breast fed infant. The large majority of these deaths are from disorders of nutrition.

These circulars have been printed in six languages and will be widely distributed throughout the Commonwealth.

presses in America. She last appeared in Pittsburgh in 1935, when Mr. Davis brought her back here to play a special engagement as a stock star with his organization at the Alvin Theatre. The story of Pinero's "Second Mrs. Tanqueray" is too well known to outline in detail here. With that same dramatist's "Iris," "Notorious Mrs. Eobsmith" and "Benefit of the Doubt," it forms a sort of tetralogy, not by any continuity of story but by identity of theme, each play depicting the life of an erring woman her fate being of course the denunciation of all three dramas. It was Mrs. Patrick Campbell who first made "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" famous. She appeared in it both England and America with phenomenal success. Mr. Davis must be congratulated for his happy foresight. Mr. Corliss Giles will of course play Aubrey Tanqueray in the revival of this Pinero masterpiece at the Grand next week, while Mr. Dennis A. Harris, Miss Katherine Stanton, Mr. Hal De Forest, Miss Gwendolyn Piers and other members of the company will be seen in the remaining roles. Stage Director Frederick Esmelton and his corps of assistants at the Grand are planning an elaborate scenic setting for the four acts of the piece, all of which are laid in and near London.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG.

Next week brings another splendid bill of sensational and artistic acts to the Pittsburgh Hippodrome. This is becoming an old story, for each week since the season opened at the big Forbes Field open air show the same announcement has been made and the close of each week has more than verified all the good things said in advance of the performance. But this is the policy pursued by Manager John P. Harris and it will be continued as long as he remains in the amusement business, viz to give the public far more than their money's worth.

The Hippodrome is by far the most attractive place of resort to be found in Pittsburgh; with its flashing, gleaming lights; its thousands of comfortable seats; the surrounding atmosphere of gaiety and pleasant excitement; the air filled with stirring music and the stages filled with a succession of artistic and surprising scenes, it is small wonder that the huge Forbes Field grand stand has been crowded nightly since the opening of the season. Another of its extremely desirable features is its central location and its accessibility. One of the greatest acts in the world is coming to the Hippodrome, Albers Polar Bears. Hippodrome patrons will enjoy seeing them, for they are as unique in their performance as they are in appearance. Never was such a splendid collection of these huge inhabitants of the frozen north brought together before. They are frozen north brought together for that matter—one of the most capable and deservedly popular acts that will be seen at the Hippodrome.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

A variety of pretty human interest photoplays was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. One of the most pleasing was "The New Church Organ." This was the story of a typical country church congregation which refuses to pay its minister a living salary, but expends a large sum in a new pipe organ. The pretty daughter of the minister has to forego the pleasure of a new gown for the church festival, which was a leading social event, because her father's salary is insufficient. She secludes herself at home, but her father brings her some of the refreshments. There the girl carries it back to the kitchen of the festival where she is burned by an explosion. The salesman, who plays the new organ, is impressed with the pretty daughter of the clergyman, and when she is burned he rushes to her rescue, and pays her much attention during her convalescence, much to the discomfiture of the other young ladies of the congregation, who have snubbed the daughter of the clergyman because of her shabby clothes. The romance ends happily and the couple are married. "The Love Germ" and the "Prize Package" were two humorous photoplays, in which sentiment had a leading part. "Memories" was a pathetic story of a woman's duplicity which wrecks a man's life as well as his happiness. This with the "Pathe Weekly Bulletin" and other strong features constituted a most delightful repertoire for the week.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

One of the most thrilling as well as graphic war photoplays ever exhibited in Charleroi was shown in the repertoire of the Coyle Theatre this week. This was "The Fortunes of War," and in these days of peace propaganda the play should furnish a sufficient object lesson to the spectators to cause them all to decry the barbarity of modern warfare. This was the story of a young Confederate officer whose scene of action is right at the home mansion. He leaves his mother after a visit and returns to camp. No sooner does he arrive than he is detailed to try to capture a northern spy. The fugitive is overtaken and in the fight that follows is badly wounded, but shoots and kills the young Confederate. The latter's body is taken to the home mansion, and the mother, who has been given shelter to the wounded spy, there the latter learns that he has killed the son of his benefactor, who in turn is frozen in stony sorrow over her loss. Her boy's father has already given up his life for his country, and the mother too has lost all. The spy, filled with remorse, tries to give himself up to his would-be captors, but the heart-stricken mother, realizing the fortunes of war, insists on him making his escape. It is a most graphic picture of the horrors of war which only the women who stay at home and suffer can realize. "The Poisoners," was a mediaeval tale, which pictured the amours and intrigues of the nobility of that period. Many other pleasing features constituted the week's bill, among which was the great three reel film of "Watonia's Sacrifice."

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

Both the crowds and the class of entertainment is holding up well at the Star Theatre. During the last two weeks there has been a noticeable increase in the number who attend the popular Fallowfield avenue theatre. Manager Cowan has been getting the best in film service. Thursday he had a good line of pictures. One of them was a popular western drama, "Young Wild West Attacked by the Apaches." With dramatic, tragedies and comedy scenes blended by the way a somewhat difficult operation, the picture proved very entertaining. Chief of the features of the week, however, was the Animated Weekly, shown on Wednesday night. This contained pictures of numerous events occurring in different parts of the world, among which were auto racing, high vaulting, railroad wreck, the fashions of the day. The weekly was regarded as one of the best ever shown. "The Gipsy Bride," "A Double Misunderstanding," "A Trapper's Delusion," "The Greater Love," "Caught in the Flash," "Just in Time" and "The Toy Phone" were other photoplays that were regarded as features during the week. Thursday afternoon an extra film was shown, affording scenes of San Diego, one of the most noted old cities of the United States.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG

The supplementary summer season of stock at the Grand Opera House by the Harry Davis Players will be brought to a brilliant termination next week in the special engagement, announced by Harry Davis of Miss Sara Truax, who will return to Pittsburgh for one week only, beginning next Monday afternoon, August 19th, to appear with the Davis Players in an elaborate revival of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's drama, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." In announcing upon the housecoming of Miss Truax and the revival of this great Pinero masterpiece, Mr. Davis will wind up the summer season of stock at the Grand—which, by the way has been a most successful one. During her regime as leading woman here, almost a decade ago Miss Truax was accounted—and is yet—for that matter—one of the most capable and deservedly popular actors

THE WASHINGTONS

BY SCORE 8 TO 0

Friday was the first day of the week that two teams of the Church League were able to get together for a game, and there were events of interest then, the First Presbyterians and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians furnishing the excitement. The Firsts had the most excitement on their side and had the more cause for rejoicing. They won. The score was 8 to 0.

Two things distinguished the victory of the Firsts. First the pitching of "Rube" Osborne, who didn't let the Washington Avenues get hardly enough hits to mention, and secondly errors of the Washington Avenues—seven of them.

The first two scores were made by the Firsts in the third inning. Two hits, and a passed ball and an error and the damage. Five runs were scored the next inning on four hits, two errors, a base on balls and a stolen base. They finished up tallying in the sixth inning by one run, due to a man being hit by pitcher, a single and sacrifice. The Washington Avenues row of ciphers was nearly the same in the run and in the hit column. They got a hit in the fifth inning and two in the sixth. Score:

Mozart and Bretzner.

When Mozart was at the height of his fame he composed the music for Bretzner's "Belmont and Konstanze" ("The Abduction From Seville") at the request of the Emperor Joseph II. The author of the drama was so angry at this that he inserted the following notice in the Leipzig Zeitung: "A certain fellow of the name of Mozart has dared to misuse my drama, 'Belmont and Konstanze,' for an opera text. I hereby solemnly protest against this invasion of my rights, and I reserve to myself further proceedings." (Signed) Christoph Friedrich Bretzner, author of "Rauschen."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy to the town paper for publication, a copy spread upon the records of this Court, and our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Horse Matred.

Of all the domestic animals the horse is probably the most gentle, but there are exceptions. A California man had in his stable a fine thoroughbred horse, of which he made quite a pet. One day he went into the stable, and, stopping to pat his favorite steed, he was surprised when the horse, with a violent plunge, broke the halter and came at him with open mouth. At first he thought it was in fun, but he soon realized his mistake and, hastily climbed up a ladder and yelled for help. On the arrival of his son the horse went back to the stall and immediately resumed its former gentleness to all but its owner. To him it remained a deadly foe until he was compelled to sell it. He never knew the reason for its sudden animosity.

Cunningham of the Twenty-First Bituminous district and Jesse K. Johnston superintendent of the Charleroi Coal works are attending the affair. The Naomi team is the only first aid team in the Twenty first district. Capt Bailey is an expert who is familiar with first aid methods all over the world, having traveled extensively and worked in various places, such as South Africa and England. ### Left Handed.

Among the world's left handed geniuses was Leonardo da Vinci, who wrote a treatise on aviation, the handwriting of which travels from the right side of the page to left. Nelson, too, was left handed, but that was from necessity.
J. R. Green records a story of Admiral Nelson's visit to Yarmouth to receive the Victoria Cross. The admiral's storm met him on his landing, but the danger failed to prevent his appearance on the quay. When the freeman's oath was tendered to him the town clerk noticed that the hero placed his left hand on the book. Shocked at the legal impropriety he said, "Your right hand, my lord." "That," observed Nelson, "is at Tenerife."

NORMAL FACULTY

ENTIRELY MADE JP FOR SEASON

The California Normal faculty has now a full corps of teachers. The last of the five vacancies has been filled as Principal Hertzog has received word of Prof. Charles Arthur Dobison of Kutztown that he will accept the position of Director of Music.

Mr. Dobison comes well recommended. He has been a member of the faculty of the Kutztown Normal school for the past few years and gave up his position there to accept a similar one at California. For three years Mr. Dobison was a member of the faculty of Grove City college and had charge of the conservatory of music. He is also a graduate of Grove City college. Mr. Dobison studied for one year in New York City under Prof Sanbago one of the most noted teachers in that city. It is likely that Mr. Dobison will also be director of the choir in the M. E. church of that place. He is a noted baritone soloist and will organize choruses, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobison were in California this week looking over the town preparatory to locating there.
